In 2016 organisations of the International Network on Explosive Weapons will develop strategic thematic partnerships to increase awareness on the impact of the use of explosive weapons in populated areas, for example with organisations specialised on the issue of displacement, in order to increase understanding and acknowledgement of this practice as a key driver of displacement.	Partnership	Uphold the Norms that Safeguard Humanity	199001
International Network on Explosive Weapons organisations will continue to collect data and document the humanitarian harm resulting from the use of wide-area explosive weapons in populated areas, particularly on civilians, and will publish a range of reports and papers on this theme throughout 2016, and beyond. International Network on Explosive Weapons organisations will continue to work to respond to the needs of populations affected by the use of explosive weapons in populated areas through food, shelter, child protection, water, sanitation and health, psychological interventions, education to the risks posed by explosive remnants of war, clearance and victim assistance. Through this response, INEW organisations will document the harm caused by this practice and bring that evidence to the work towards a political declaration.
