Q1 Please select your organisationHuman Appeal*Q2 Please provide your email address jamal.belke@humanappeal.org.uk

Q3 Has there been a change in the profile and prevalence of C4C in your organization since reporting in March/April last year? What has changed? What role is C4C playing now?

C4C has played a growing role within the Programmes Department and referred to in strategy and policy documents, planning, etc. When working as part of the UK-registered Muslim Charities Forum, Human Appeal has referred specifically to the C4C, and emphasized the need to empower and finance southern-based NGOs when meeting with relevant stakeholders (UN, government, INGOs, private sector, L/NGOs, etc.) in the Horn of Africa and at Parliamentary briefings in Westminster.

Q4 Optional: Please comment on how localisation and other related WHS initiatives such as the Grand Bargain are perceived in your organisation.Respondent skipped this question

Page 14: Commitment 2: Reaffirm the Principles of Partnership

Q21 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 2 - A year ago(if your response is '0', please make sure you click on 0 to allow you to move forward) 1

Q22 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 2 - Now 2

Q23 Which achievements related to embedding the Humanitarian Principles of Partnership (2007) in your organisation's work do you value most or find most significant (organisational policy and/or practice change)? Why? Please provide examples of these achievements.

Wider referencing to humanitarian principles of partnership across the organisation so that even fundraising can better understand the use of partners in the field and the importance of strengthening them.

Q24 Which key challenges have you encountered and how do you plan to address those challenges in the coming year?

Risk appetite varies greatly between countries and its increasingly harder to work with partners in many of the countries we work. Therefore we are being forced to open our own offices in areas where we previously worked with partners.

Page 15: Commitment 3: Increase transparency around resource transfers to southern-based n/l NGOs

Q25 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 3 - A year ago 3

Q26 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 3 - Now 3

Q27 Please provide operational examples of change in practice (systems/operations/other)

We publicize our expenditure in-line with standard UK charities accounting practices.

Q28 Which key challenges have you encountered and how do you plan to address those challenges in the coming year?

We haven't encountered any key challenges.

Q30 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 4 - Now 0

Q31 Please provide examples of policy change and/or demonstration of change in practice at the programme/operational level

We don't have any cases of this.

Q32 Which key challenges have you encountered and how do you plan to address those challenges in the coming year?

We don't have any cases of this or plans to do so.

Page 17: Commitment 5: Emphasize the importance of national actors

Q33 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 5 - A year ago 1

Q34 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 5 - Now 3

Q35 Please provide examples of policy change and/or change in practice at the programme/operational level

We've been more vocal about such a need at the Humanitarian working group meetings around the world.

Q36 What new insights (enablers & barriers) are emerging for you or your organisation vis-a-vis (your) donors and their willingness to support local and national actors?

There is better understanding among our local donors as to the need for us to build our relations with and to work through local actors.

Q37 What actions (as an individual organisation, as the C4C collective, or with other initiatives, e.g. Grand Bargain workstream #2) do you feel would enable further progress in the coming year?

Its hard to say given the internal organizational priorities and new strategies being implemented.

Page 18: Commitment 6: Address subcontracting

Q38 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 6 - A year ago 1

Q39 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 6 - Now 2

Q40 Please provide examples of policy change and/or change in practice at the programme/operational level

We are more actively involving others in our programme design.

Q41 Which key challenges have you encountered and how do you plan to address those challenges in the coming year?

It can be hard to get the balance right with participation and transparency and too much participation that can lead to significant time delays, lots of compromises, etc.

Page 19: Commitment 7: Robust organisational support and capacity strengthening

Q42 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 7 - A year ago 1

Q43 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 7 - Now 2

Q44 Has your organisation been able to institutionalize availing adequate resources for administrative support to local/national NGO partners ? Most of them

Q45 Has your organisation been able to institutionalize provision of resources for partners' humanitarian capacity building as part of project/program budgets going to partners? Some of them

Q46 Which key challenges have you encountered and how do you plan to address those challenges in the coming year?

Budgets are tight as are funding restrictions..we live in a payment by results and value for money world that doesn't take such things easily into account at all times.

Page 20: Commitment 8: Communication to the media and the public about partners

Q47 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 8 - A year ago 1

Q48 On a scale from 0 to 5, to what extent has your organization been compliant with commitment 8 - Now 1

Q49 Please provide examples of policy change and/or change in practice at the programme/operational level

As information flows allow, this is done to the extent possible.

Q50 Have your actions resulted in more visibility for your partners, and/or increased interest in the role of local actors among your media/comms audiences? Please explain.

At times this has happens.

Q51 Which key challenges have you encountered and how do you plan to address those challenges in the coming year?

For many of our partners this isn't possible owing to security risks.

Q52 Please provide links to your organisation's communications products that you feel constructively promote the role and work of local actors.

6) Address subcontracting	5
7) Robust organisational support and capacity strengthening	2
8) Communication to the media and the public about partners	3

Please specify the name of the humanitarian response:
Rohingya Response

Q54 What would have helped your organisation to better support and empower local actors during this crisis response, in line with the 8 commitments of the Charter?

Unrestricted funding.

Q55 Is there any else you would like to share about progress towards meeting Charter for Change commitments over the last year? Or related to the role of C4C post May 2018? Your reflections and suggestions are highly appreciated!

Its good to keep the C4C continuing beyond May 2018 so that this focus on truly developing local organizations, etc. isn't lost due to growing complexities, funding restrictions, etc.
