1. A. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

From January to December 2018, Japan provided training courses through the Global Peacebuilders Program to 47 people in order to train experts in the area of peacebuilding and development.

Japan has worked on addressing root causes of conflict by investing in social stabilization and development, through assistance to reduce poverty and disparities such as strengthening prevention, preparedness and response capacities against public health emergencies, as well as ensuring the basic health services as part of stable economic and social infrastructure. Japan provided assistance of the total amount US$57.3 million to support including food, water and sanitation, and education for displaced persons and host community in Myanmar and Bangladesh. The program aims to provide humanitarian support for conflict affected people and host community in both countries.

Japan has contributed to preventing and resolving conflicts including through its efforts as a non-permanent member of the United Nations Security Council (2016-2017), as well as via its contribution to the United Nations Peacebuilding Commission. In 2018, Japan has disbursed 2 million dollars to the Peace Building Fund (PBF). Furthermore, in 2018, Japan has contributed to the peace in the Middle East through the Third Conference on the Cooperation among East Asian countries for Palestinian Development (CEPAD) held in June; the Sixth Ministerial-Level Meeting of the Four-Party Consultative Unit for the “Corridor for Peace and Prosperity” in April; and the Ministerial Meeting on United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA) held during the General Assembly of UN in September. 1. A. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

Based on its National Action Plan on Women, Peace and Security based on the Security Council Resolution 1325, Japan has been providing opportunity and support for promoting leadership, equal participation, and empowerment of women. For example, Japan has supported UN Women's projects on Women's Leadership, Empowerment, Access and Protection in Crisis Response (LEAP) in Egypt, Iraq and Jordan to nurture leadership of women in the refugee camps and host communities in addition to providing them protection, humanitarian assistance and economic empowerment. Japan also supports the project on Integrating Gender into Peace Support Operations in Eastern Africa.

Japan has promoted inclusion of women and women's groups into political decision-making and peace processes. For example, Japan supported UN Women project on Integrating Gender into Peace Support Operations in Eastern Africa. November 11, 2018, Japan organized two times the internal advisors meeting for the "World Assembly for Women: WAW! 2019" in Tokyo, in March 2019 in which advocated women's equal participation in decision making in all level including peace process.

3A Reduce and address displacement

Individual Commitments

Commitment	Commitment Type	Core Responsibility
Based on the concept of human security, Japan commits to contribute to protect and empower refugees and internally displaced persons to be free from fear and want and to be able to live in dignity as well as to build societies resilient to crises.	Operational	Leave No One Behind
Japan commits to implement the following five points in order to achieve better collaboration between humanitarian and development actors to find solutions for forcibly displaced persons as pointed out in the Joint Statement by the Government of Japan and the Solutions Alliance, which was issued at the WHS side event on "Strengthening the Humanitarian-Development Nexus": 1) Ensuring meaningful participation of the most affected - host and returnee communities and forcibly displaced people - in the pursuit of solutions to forced displacement; 2) Including forced displacement issues in national and local development plans, and in peacebuilding and recovery strategies; 3) Marshaling the comparative advantages of humanitarian and development actors for collective action through the promotion of institutional flexibility while respecting fundamental principles; 4) Developing a common vision through identification of complementary policies, and joint analysis that enables holistic planning; 5) Seeing the humanitarian-development nexus as an integral part of promoting peace and security.	Policy	Leave No One Behind Change People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need
Japan commits to provide support to refugee hosting countries and communities. For example, Japan has been supporting long-term commitment of refugee-hosting countries and communities by providing innovative financing, including concessional loans to crisis-hit countries with relatively high income levels (for example, Yen loans to Turkey and Jordan).	Operational	Leave No One Behind
Japan commits to providing an assistance package of about US$ 6 billion for the Middle East region between 2016 and 2018 including human resource development programs for about 20,000 people. Furthermore, Japan will dispatch Japan Team for Refugees and Community (J-TRaC) to refugee camps by JICA and increase the number of Syrian students in Japan. Japan has also recently committed to contributing US$ 50 million and a maximum of US$ 900 million in yen loans over the next 5 years for the World Bank's new financing initiative to support the Middle East and North Africa.	Financial Contribution ()	Leave No One Behind Invest in Humanity

Japan commits to strengthen measures to address displacement caused by natural disaster, climate change and public health emergency, through for example prior investment in disaster risk reduction, early warning, preparedness and implementation of "build back better" after a disaster occurs. Japan has provided support in countries including in the Asia-Pacific region and in Africa as well as through the Green Climate Fund.	Financial	Leave No One Behind Invest in Humanity
With a view to reducing the burden shouldered by refugee-hosting countries and communities as well as strengthening their resilience, Japan commits to continue to provide support to the host countries and communities, in terms of infrastructure development, service delivery improvement and capacity building of local government officials and community-based organizations. This support includes that provided for local government capacity development in West Nile in Uganda. Japan also has been supporting the long-term commitments of refugee-hosting countries and communities by providing loans to crisis-hit countries with relatively high income levels. (ex. Yen loans to Turkey and Jordan).	Financial	Leave No One Behind

Core Commitments

Commitment	Core Responsibility
Commit to a new approach to addressing forced displacement that not only meets immediate humanitarian needs but reduces vulnerability and improves the resilience, self-reliance and protection of refugees and IDPs. Commit to implementing this new approach through coherent international, regional and national efforts that recognize both the humanitarian and development challenges of displacement. Commit to take the necessary political, policy, legal and financial steps required to address these challenges for the specific context.	Leave No One Behind
Commit to promote and support safe, dignified and durable solutions for internally displaced persons and refugees. Commit to do so in a coherent and measurable manner through international, regional and national programs and by taking the necessary policy, legal and financial steps required for the specific contexts and in order to work towards a target of 50 percent reduction in internal displacement by 2030.	Leave No One Behind
Acknowledge the global public good provided by countries and communities which are hosting large numbers of refugees. Commit to providing communities with large numbers of displaced population or receiving large numbers of returnees with the necessary political, policy and financial, support to address the humanitarian and socio-economic impact. To this end, commit to strengthen multilateral financing instruments. Commit to foster host communities' self-reliance and resilience, as part of the comprehensive and integrated approach outlined in core commitment 1.	Leave No One Behind
Commit to collectively work towards a Global Compact on responsibility-sharing for refugees to safeguard the rights of refugees, while also effectively and predictably supporting States affected by such movements.	Leave No One Behind

Commit to actively work to uphold the institution of asylum and the principle of non-refoulement. Commit to support further accession to and strengthened implementation of national, regional and international laws and policy frameworks that ensure and improve the protection of refugees and IDPs, such as the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees and the 1967 Protocol or the AU Convention for the Protection and Assistance of Internally Displaced Persons in Africa (Kampala convention) or the Guiding Principles on internal displacement.

Leave No One Behind

1. A. Highlight concrete actions taken between 1 January – 31 December 2019 to implement the commitments which contribute to achieving this transformation. Be as specific as possible and include any relevant data/figures as well as any good practices and examples of innovation.

Refugees

In December 2016, Japan formulated Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) Implementation Guiding Principles. Japan has been working on implementing measures which contribute to the realization of the world where no one is left behind, including the assistance for refugees and internally displaced persons.

Japan has provided support to refugee hosting countries and communities including provision of innovative financing.

Japan has been steadily implementing its commitments to providing an assistance package of about 6 billion US dollars for the Middle East region between 2016 and 2018 including human resource development programs for about 20,000 people. Japan has dispatched Japan Team for Refugees and Community (J-TRaC) to refugee camps by JICA.

In 2018, we accepted 29 Syrian students (Under the Japanese Initiative for the future of Syrian Refugees (JISR), JICA received 20 Syrian students, and under the Japanese Government Scholarship Program, Japan received 9 Syrian students in 2018.).

In order to reduce the burden shouldered by refugee-hosting countries and communities as well as strengthening their resilience, Japan has provided support for service delivery improvement and capacity building of local government officials and community-based organizations.

For more information, please see the attached document.

IDPs (due to conflict, violence, and disaster)

Japan has continued to implement the five points identified in the Joint Statement by the Government of Japan and the Solutions Alliance in order to achieve better collaboration between humanitarian and development actors to find solutions for forcibly displaced persons.

For more information, please see the attached document.

Cross-border, disaster and climate related displacement

Japan has provided support for disaster risk reduction, early warning, disaster preparedness, and measures against health emergency as well as climate change effects to address cross-border displacement caused by natural hazards, climate change and public health emergencies. For example, Japan also continues to make contribution to related international organizations and funds such as ISDR, OCHA, WHO's Contingency Fund for Emergency, World Bank's Pandemic Emergency Financing Facility, the Green Climate Fund, etc. Also, Japan has supported "the Project for Strengthening Integrated Risk Governance Capacities and Regional Cooperation in Central Asia" in Kazakhstan, Kyrgyz, Tajikistan and Turkmenistan.

4A Reinforce, do not replace, national and local systems

Individual Commitments

Commitment	Commitment Type	Core Responsibility
Japan commits not only to meet the urgent needs of people under humanitarian crises but to also contribute to building societies resilient to crises by strengthening the humanitarian and development nexus.	Operational	Change People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need
Japan commits to continue to address root causes of crises and support resilience building and prevention capacities of affected countries and communities. Japan will endeavor to provide support in continuum to those who are affected by engaging effective partnership with humanitarian actors and exploring flexibility in delivering assistance while upholding comparative advantages of its own, for example through enhanced engagement in the Solution Alliance and partnership with international organizations such as UNHCR, UNDP, WFP and OCHA, enhancement of the resilience of national health systems including through developing the capacity of health workers, awareness raising and dissemination of public health information and education at the community level, strengthening of the International Health Regulations (IHR) (2005) of WHO, and so on.	Operational	Change People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need
Japan commits to continue to endeavor to Build Back Better during periods of post-disaster recovery and reconstruction so that societies do not simply recover to the same situation as that which existed prior to the disaster but rather overcome vulnerabilities based on lessons learned from the disaster and reconstruct toward becoming resilient to disasters. (ex. assistance to recovery and reconstruction from the Nepal Earthquake)	Financial	Change People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need
Japan commits to continue to work with and through the host country and government, so that parallel channels of support are not created and local capacities are not impaired. In the belief that crisis management requires strong ownership of locals, Japan will continue to invest in local capacity building including for refugee-hosting countries and communities. Such support includes ongoing assistance such as Grass-roots Technical Assistance in Zambia, Assistance program for West Nile region in Northern Uganda, Yen loans in Turkey and Jordan, and so on.	Operational	Change People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need

Strengthening national/local leadership and systems

Japan has been working on to address root causes of crises and support resilience building and prevention capacities of affected countries and communities. Japan has taken comprehensive approach from short-term to mid- and long-term assistance to meet urgent needs of people as well as to build resilience by building effective partnership with international organizations such as UNHCR, UNDP, WFP and OCHA. In terms of capacity building, for example, Japan announced to invest in human resource development to about 10 million people from 2016 to 2018 for African countries at Sixth Tokyo International Conference on African Development (TICAD VI) held in Nairobi in August 2016. A ministerial meeting was held in October 2018 to follow up the outcome of TICAD VI. Japan offers concrete assistance to partners to strengthen their IHR core capacities and has participated actively in the Joint External Evaluation (JEE).

Japan has worked with and through the host country and government and invested in local capacity building including for refugee-hosting countries and communities.

Japan, based on the concept of human security, has supported capacity and institution building at national, community and regional levels. Japan has also supported “the Project for Electoral Support in Afghanistan” through UNDP in Afghanistan. For more information, please see the attached document.

Disaster risk reduction and disaster risk management (including resilience)

Japan has extended support for improving anticipation and preparedness for crises by investing in data and risk analysis as well as by supporting response capacity and institution building. For example, Japan has supported WFP's vulnerability assessment and mapping (VAM) activities and capacity building through UNHCR eCentre; provided support for strengthening surveillance and laboratory capacity which contributes to prevent, detect and respond to health crisis including infectious disease outbreak, and so on. In 2018, Japan, through WFP, provided support for the emergency preparedness and response in Pacific countries such as Fiji, and "Project for Introduction of Nationwide Early Warning System and Strengthening" in Tonga.

Japan promoted awareness-raising among the international community on disaster risk reduction through sharing Japan's experience as well as advocating the importance of disaster risk reduction at various occasions. For example, from 31 October to 1 November 2018, 378 high school students from 48 countries, including Japan, actively participated in the High School Students Summit on World Tsunami Awareness Day 2018 in Wakayama Prefecture that aimed to encourage the high school students to become future leaders in the field of DRR. The "Inamura-no-Hi Declaration" was adopted as a result in the Summit.

Preparedness

Japan contributes to Latin American countries through "the Disaster Risk Reduction Training Program for Latin America and the Caribbean", which is the triangular cooperation supported by Chile and Japan. Japan has also supported "Project on Capacity Development for Disaster Risk Management in Central America, Phase 2" in North and Latin America such as El Salvador, Honduras, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama. Japan, in cooperation with UNDP, is providing assistance to the implementation of tsunami evacuation drills jointly conducted with local schools in 18 countries in Asia-Pacific region. Also, Japan provided a grant aid worth 850 million yen to Laos to provide support for school education, water and sanitation, agriculture and housing sectors in the areas affected by the flood through international organizations. Japan also provided a grant of 1.278 billion yen to "The Project for Improvement of Flood Forecasting and Warning System for Cagayan de Oro River Basin".

Japan commits to implement the following five points in order to achieve better collaboration between humanitarian and development actors to find solutions for forcibly displaced persons as pointed out in the Joint Statement by the Government of Japan and the Solutions Alliance, which was issued at the WHS side event on "Strengthening the Humanitarian-Development Nexus": 1) Ensuring meaningful participation of the most affected - host and returnee communities and forcibly displaced people - in the pursuit of solutions to forced displacement; 2) Including forced displacement issues in national and local development plans, and in peacebuilding and recovery strategies; 3) Marshaling the comparative advantages of humanitarian and development actors for collective action through the promotion of institutional flexibility while respecting fundamental principles; 4) Developing a common vision through identification of complementary policies, and joint analysis that enables holistic planning; 5) Seeing the humanitarian-development nexus as an integral part of promoting peace and security.	Policy	Leave No One Behind Change People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need
Japan commits to promote Universal Health Coverage (UHC) thus improving women's access to health services.	Advocacy	Leave No One Behind Change People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need

Japan commits to strengthen the humanitarian and development nexus by implementing and promoting a comprehensive approach to address forced displacement by providing humanitarian assistance that meets the urgent needs of refugees and internally displaced persons as well as by providing comprehensive cooperation, including education and vocational and agricultural training to promote their self-reliance and the development of host communities. In this regard, Japan, in collaboration with international organizations, implements model projects in 9 countries including in the Middle East and Africa. Japan also carries out projects in countries such as Afghanistan and other countries in the Middle East and Africa that contribute to addressing both the humanitarian and longer-term development needs of these people. This support includes educational support for Syrian refugees in Lebanon, vocational training for Syrian refugee women in Jordan, vocational and agricultural training for Congolese and South Sudanese refugees in Uganda, and so on.	Operational	Change People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need
Learning lessons from the Ebola outbreak and other public health crises in the past, Japan commits to contribute to strengthening of international response to public health emergencies including promoting the coordination between the humanitarian sector and health sector. Also, Japan is committed to promote Universal Health Coverage (UHC), which contributes to realizing the principle of "no one left behind", as well as enhancing prevention of and preparedness for public health emergencies, by health system strengthening including human resources development.	Operational	Change People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need

Japan has been promoting Universal Health Coverage (UHC) thus improving women's access to health services. For example, Japan continues supporting initiatives in sexual and reproductive health and rights through contributions to UNFPA and IPPF. Japan co-organized "UHC Forum 2017" with World Bank, WHO, UNICEF, UHC2030, and JICA in December 2017. Based on the discussions at the conference, "UHC Tokyo Declaration" was adopted as the commitment to accelerate the efforts towards achieving UHC by 2030 and the commitment is under implementation.

Japan has advocated for and implemented concrete projects to strengthen humanitarian-development nexus. For example, Japan proactively participated in the meetings of the Global Compact on Refugees in 2018. Various projects including model projects for humanitarian-development nexus in 4 countries in the Middle East and Africa have been in progress.
