

First Report on Individual Commitments (Japan)

1. Political Leadership to Prevent and End Conflicts

Individual Commitments	Progress in Jun-Dec 2016
Japan commits to contribute to prevent and resolve conflicts including through being a member and chair (2016) of the G7, its efforts as a non-permanent member of the United Nations Security Council (2016-2017), as well as via its contribution to the United Nations Peacebuilding Commission and the Conference on the Cooperation among East Asian countries for Palestinian Development (CEAPAD).	Japan has contributed to preventing and resolving conflicts including through being the Presidency (2016) of the G7, its efforts as a non-permanent member of the United Nations Security Council (2016-2017), as well as via its contribution to the United Nations Peacebuilding Commission. For instance, under the Japanese presidency of UN Security Council in 2016, Japan chaired an open debate on the theme of “Peacebuilding in Africa”, and adopted a Presidential Statement which emphasizes the importance of trust-building, the value of law and utilization of science and technology. Also, on the occasion of the Pledging Conference of the Peacebuilding Fund (PBF) in September 2016, Japan announced to contribute about 10 US million dollars in the coming years to PBF. Japan has contributed to the peace in the Middle East through the Conference on the Cooperation among East Asian countries for Palestinian Development (CEAPAD) and the “Corridor for Peace and Prosperity” initiative, and the Fifth Ministerial-Level Meeting of the Four-Party Consultative Unit for the “Corridor for Peace and Prosperity” was held in Jericho on September 7, 2016, in which Mr. Sonoura, Japanese State Minister for Foreign Affairs served as Chair.
Japan commits to share and demonstrate good practices and lessons learned on conflict prevention and resolution in Asia.	Japan continues to share and demonstrate good practices and lessons learned on conflict prevention and resolution in Asia.
Japan commits to train experts who could contribute in this area; for example, through its Global Peacebuilders Program.	From June to December 2016, Japan provided training courses through the Global Peacebuilders Program to 56 people in order to train experts in the area of peacebuilding and development.

Japan commits to promote inclusion of women and women’s groups into political decision-making and peace processes, including through implementation of the National Action Plan on Women, Peace and Security based on the Security Council Resolution 1325.	Japan has promoted inclusion of women and women’s groups into political decision-making and peace processes. For example, on December 12, 2016, Japan hosted the “International Symposium on the Promotion of Women’s Public and Socio-Economic Role in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) Region” in Tokyo, in which experts from the MENA region, G7 countries and international organizations had participated.
Japan commits to addressing root causes of conflict by investing in social stabilization and development, through assistance to reduce poverty and disparities such as strengthening prevention, preparedness and response capacities against public health emergencies, as well as ensuring the basic health services as part of stable economic and social infrastructure.	Japan has worked on to addressing root causes of conflict by investing in social stabilization and development, through assistance to reduce poverty and disparities such as strengthening prevention, preparedness and response capacities against public health emergencies, as well as ensuring the basic health services as part of stable economic and social infrastructure. Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) works in Darfur, Sudan to address social stabilization by improving capacity development of the government and the community to provide public services including water, income generation, health sector (“The Project for Strengthening Peace through the Improvement of Public Services in Three Darfur States”). In North Uganda, JICA continues to work to upgrade water system to stabilize the region to support return and repatriation process.
Japan commits to enhance partnership with the private sector and promote effective use of knowledge and technologies in order to provide sustainable solutions for people’s stable and dignified lives. This includes utilization of the Japanese private sector’s knowledge, skills and technologies, and so on.	Japan has provided support to enhance partnership with the private sector and promote effective use of knowledge and technologies in order to provide sustainable solutions for people’s stable and dignified lives. This includes utilization of the Japanese private sector’s knowledge, skills and technologies, and so on. For example, Japan provided support for the Global Pandemic Supply Chain Network consisted by various international organizations and private sectors in December 2016.

--	---

2. Uphold the Norms that Safeguard Humanity

Individual Commitments	Progress in Jun-Dec 2016
Japan commits to ensure full respect for humanitarian principles, international humanitarian law and human rights law. Japan also commits to promote and enhance the protection of civilians and access to humanitarian and medical assistance. Specific examples include implementation of the United Nations Security Council Resolution 2286 on Health Care in Armed Conflict, which Japan strongly supported recently; contribution to discussion to establish feasible compliance mechanisms for international humanitarian law; and advocacy activities to raise awareness of IHL's importance at the various relevant conferences.	Japan has made efforts to ensure full respect for humanitarian principles, as well as compliance with international humanitarian law and human rights law. For example, Japan has promoted the protection of civilians and access to humanitarian and medical assistance as well as advocated for raising awareness of IHL's importance at various fora. Japan also served together with NZ, Egypt, Spain and Uruguay in drafting and ensuring the adoption of the UN Security Council Resolution 2286.
Japan commits to contribute to reinforcing the global justice system in order to end impunity. Japan's long term contribution in this area can be seen in its various forms of engagement in the International Criminal Court (ICC), the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY), the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda (ICTR), the Mechanism for International Criminal Tribunals (MICT), and the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia (ECCC).	Japan has contributed to reinforcing the global justice system in order to end impunity. Japan has supported the work of the ICC as the largest financial contributor and by providing human resources including Judge Kuniko Ozaki, Second Vice-President. Japan also made a voluntary contribution of approximately 47,000 Euros to the Trust Fund for Victims of the ICC in 2016.
Japan commits to contribute to eradicating sexual and gender-based violence and protecting survivors. Japan has been actively participating in the Preventing Sexual Violence in Conflict Initiative (PSVI), is one of the largest donors to the Office of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Sexual Violence in Conflict, has introduced a	Japan has contributed to eradicating sexual and gender-based violence and protecting survivors through the contribution to the Office of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Sexual Violence in Conflict as well as various assistance in line with its National Action Plan on Women, Peace and Security. For example, Japan

National Action Plan on Women, Peace and Security, and has provided training for concerned stakeholders including military, police, judicial and civilian personnel to promote prevention of sexual and gender-based violence in various countries.	assists in in the development of training materials for Women's Protection Advisers in UN PKO missions. Japan also supports the development of an e-learning program on the prevention of sexual exploitation and abuse, targeting all categories of field personnel, including military, police and civilian personnel.
Japan commits to support the Code of Conduct of the Accountability, Coherence and Transparency (ACT) group regarding Security Council action against genocide, crimes against humanity or war crimes, as well as the French-Mexican initiative on collective and voluntary agreement among the permanent members to refrain from the use of veto in case of mass atrocities.	Japan has continued to support the Code of Conduct of the Accountability, Coherence and Transparency (ACT) group regarding Security Council action against genocide, crimes against humanity or war crimes, as well as the French-Mexican initiative on collective and voluntary agreement among the permanent members to refrain from the use of veto in case of mass atrocities.
Japan commits to promote the commitments made under the joint pledge on the Anti-Personnel Mine Ban Convention.	Japan has been promoting the commitments made under the joint pledge on the Anti-Personnel Mine Ban Convention.
Japan commits to continue to work strenuously towards the promotion of universalization of the Convention on Cluster Munitions and its full implementation.	Japan has been working strenuously towards the promotion of universalization of the Convention on Cluster Munitions and its full implementation.

3. Leave No One Behind: A Commitment to Address Forced Displacement

Individual Commitments	Progress in Jun-Dec 2016
Based on the concept of human security, Japan commits to contribute to protect and empower refugees and internally displaced persons to be free from fear and want and to be able to live in dignity as well as to build societies resilient to crises.	In December 2016, Japan launched SDGs Implementation Guiding Principles. Japan has been working on implementing measures which contribute to the realization of the world where no one would be left behind, including the assistance for refugees and internally displaced persons. Syrian refugees with disabilities are particularly vulnerable in emergency situation. JICA set up a peer-peer counseling program for Syrian people with disabilities in Jordan. Also, vocational training and income generation support for Syrian and

	Palestinian refugees has been conducted in partnership with UNHCR and UNRWA.
Japan commits to strengthen the humanitarian and development nexus by implementing and promoting a comprehensive approach to address forced displacement by providing humanitarian assistance that meets the urgent needs of refugees and internally displaced persons as well as by providing comprehensive cooperation, including education and vocational and agricultural training to promote their self-reliance and the development of host communities. In this regard, Japan, in collaboration with international organizations, implements model projects in 9 countries including in the Middle East and Africa. Japan also carries out projects in countries such as Afghanistan and other countries in the Middle East and Africa that contribute to addressing both the humanitarian and longer-term development needs of these people. This support includes educational support for Syrian refugees in Lebanon, vocational training for Syrian refugee women in Jordan, vocational and agricultural training for Congolese and South Sudanese refugees in Uganda, and so on.	Japan has advocated for and implemented concrete projects to strengthen humanitarian-development nexus. For example, Prime Minister Abe stressed the importance of this concept at the “UN Summit for Refugees and Migrants” as well as the “Leaders’ Summit on Refugees” held in September 2016. Various projects including model projects for humanitarian-development nexus in 9 countries in the Middle East and Africa have been in progress.
With a view to reducing the burden shouldered by refugee-hosting countries and communities as well as strengthening their resilience, Japan commits to continue to provide support to the host countries and communities, in terms of infrastructure development, service delivery improvement and capacity building of local government officials and community-based organizations. This support includes that provided for local government capacity development in West Nile in Uganda. Japan also has been supporting the long-term commitments of refugee-hosting countries and	In order to reduce the burden shouldered by refugee-hosting countries and communities as well as strengthening their resilience, Japan has provided support for service delivery improvement and capacity building of local government officials and community-based organizations. For example, Japan has carried out the “Project for Capacity Development of Local Government for Strengthening Community Resilience in Acholi and West Nile Sub-Regions” in Uganda and “Pilot Project for Strengthening the Social Services for Syrian under Temporary Protection in Turkey” since

communities by providing loans to crisis-hit countries with relatively high income levels. (ex. Yen loans to Turkey and Jordan)	June 2016. Japan also provided yen loan to Jordan for the “Financial Sector, Business Environment and Public Service Reform Development Policy Loan” in December 2016.
Japan commits to implement the following five points in order to achieve better collaboration between humanitarian and development actors to find solutions for forcibly displaced persons as pointed out in the Joint Statement by the Government of Japan and the Solutions Alliance, which will be issued at the Side Event on “Strengthening the Humanitarian-Development Nexus” scheduled to take place at the World Humanitarian Summit: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (1) Ensuring meaningful participation of the most affected – host and returnee communities and forcibly displaced people – in the pursuit of solutions to forced displacement; (2) Including forced displacement issues in national and local development plans, and in peacebuilding and recovery strategies; (3) Marshaling the comparative advantages of humanitarian and development actors for collective action through the promotion of institutional flexibility while respecting fundamental principles; (4) Developing a common vision through identification of complementary policies, and joint analysis that enables holistic planning; (5) Seeing the humanitarian-development nexus as an integral part of promoting peace and security. 	Japan has continued to implement the five points identified in the Joint Statement by the Government of Japan and the Solutions Alliance in order to achieve better collaboration between humanitarian and development actors to find solutions for forcibly displaced persons. Japan as one of the co-chairs of the Good Humanitarian Donorship “Humanitarian-Development Nexus Workstream,” remains committed to lead the discussion on this theme.
Learning lessons from the Ebola outbreak and other public health crises in the past, Japan commits to contribute to strengthening of international response to public health emergencies including promoting the coordination between the humanitarian sector and health sector. Also, Japan is committed to promote	Japan had been steadily implementing the measures in line with the initiatives announced at G7 Ise-Shima Summit on global health; that is to provide support totaling about 1.1 billion dollars to international health organizations (Global Fund, Gavi, Global Health Innovative Technology (GHIT) Fund, and Pandemic Emergency Financing Facility

Universal Health Coverage (UHC), which contributes to realizing the principle of “no one left behind”, as well as enhancing prevention of and preparedness for public health emergencies, by health system strengthening including human resources development.	(PEF)). In addition, Japan has been actively leading the discussion on promoting coordination between humanitarian and health sectors (WHO, OCHA and other relevant organizations) at various occasions such as G7 Health Ministers’ Meeting in Kobe in 2016, and Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) prepared under the initiative of Japan was mentioned in a UN Resolution. Regarding UHC, Japan launched “UHC in Africa: A framework for Action” at TICAD VI (Sixth Tokyo International Conference on African Development) in August 2016, to contribute to the promotion of UHC in Africa. Furthermore, in the countries such as Myanmar, Vietnam and Kenya, Japan provides technical cooperation of capacity development in surveillance and laboratories for the countries to cope with the issue of communicable diseases, meanwhile the assistances to strengthen the countries’ health systems are supplied to protect the people against the threat of infections.
Japan commits to strengthen measures to address displacement caused by natural disaster, climate change and public health emergency, through for example prior investment in disaster risk reduction, early warning, preparedness and implementation of “build back better” after a disaster occurs. Japan has provided support in countries including in the Asia-Pacific region and in Africa as well as through the Green Climate Fund.	Japan has provided support for disaster risk reduction, early warning, preparedness, and measures against health emergency as well as climate change effects to address displacement caused by natural disaster, climate change and public health emergency. For example, Japan decided to extend the Grant Aid for the “Project for Construction of the Pacific Climate Change Center” in July 2016. Japan also continues to make contribution to related international organizations and funds such as ISDR, OCHA, WHO, the Green Climate Fund, etc.
Japan commits to provide support to ensure access to education to children, adolescents and youth and promote capacity building to enable adolescents and youth to be agents of positive transformation.	Japan has provided support to ensure access to education to children, adolescents and youth and promote capacity building to enable adolescents and youth to be agents of positive transformation through various means including bilateral

	assistance as well as contribution to international organizations such as UNICEF and GPE. Specifically, Japan has supported the initiatives of the Government of Pakistan for promoting Non-Formal Education targeting both youth and out of school children ensuring equivalency to existing formal education in terms of curriculum, educational materials, and assessment through Advancing Quality Alternative Learning (AQAL) Project.
Japan commits to providing an assistance package of about 6 billion US dollars for the Middle East region between 2016 and 2018 including human resource development programs for about 20,000 people. Furthermore, Japan will dispatch Japan Team for Refugees and Community (J-TRaC) to refugee camps by JICA and increase the number of Syrian students in Japan. Japan has also recently committed to contributing 50 million US dollars and a maximum of 900 million dollars in yen loans over the next 5 years for the World Bank's new financing initiative to support the Middle East and North Africa.	Japan has been steadily implementing its commitments to providing an assistance package of about 6 billion US dollars for the Middle East region between 2016 and 2018 including human resource development programs for about 20,000 people. Japan has dispatched Japan Team for Refugees and Community (J-TRaC) to refugee camps by JICA. Preparation for receiving Syrian students in Japan is underway. In addition, part of the disbursement to the World Bank's Concessional Financing Facility (CFF) has already been made.

4. Changing People's Lives: From Delivering Aid to Ending Need

Individual Commitments	Progress in Jun-Dec 2016
Japan commits not only to meet the urgent needs of people under humanitarian crises but to also contribute to building societies resilient to crises by strengthening the humanitarian and development nexus.	Japan has advocated for and implemented concrete projects to strengthen humanitarian-development nexus. For example, Prime Minister Abe stressed the importance of this concept at the "UN Summit for Refugees and Migrants" as well as the "Leaders' Summit on Refugees" held in September 2016. Various projects including model projects for humanitarian-development nexus in 9 countries in the Middle East and Africa have been in progress. Japan, together with Denmark, also serves as co-chairs of the Good Humanitarian Donorship "Humanitarian-Development Nexus Workstream,"

	and leading the discussion on this theme.
Japan commits to implement the following five points in order to achieve better collaboration between humanitarian and development actors to find solutions for forcibly displaced persons as pointed out in the Joint Statement by the Government of Japan and the Solutions Alliance, which will be issued at the Side Event on “Strengthening the Humanitarian-Development Nexus” scheduled to take place at the World Humanitarian Summit: (1) Ensuring meaningful participation of the most affected – host and returnee communities and forcibly displaced people – in the pursuit of solutions to forced displacement; (2) Including forced displacement issues in national and local development plans, and in peacebuilding and recovery strategies; (3) Marshaling the comparative advantages of humanitarian and development actors for collective action through the promotion of institutional flexibility while respecting fundamental principles; (4) Developing a common vision through identification of complementary policies, and joint analysis that enables holistic planning; (5) Seeing the humanitarian-development nexus as an integral part of promoting peace and security.	Japan has continued to implement the five points identified in the Joint Statement by the Government of Japan and the Solutions Alliance in order to achieve better collaboration between humanitarian and development actors to find solutions for forcibly displaced persons. Japan as one of the co-chairs of the Good Humanitarian Donorship “Humanitarian-Development Nexus Workstream,” remains committed to lead the discussion on this theme.
Japan commits to contribute to building disaster-resilient societies through provision of both non-material and material assistance by sharing Japan’s expertise in and technologies for disaster risk reduction as well as through promoting partnership with a broader range of stakeholders. Such contributions include development of infrastructure that is resilient to disasters; sharing of technologies for disaster observation, prediction and warning; assistance for establishing laws,	Japan has contributed to building disaster-resilient societies through provision of both non-material and material assistance by sharing Japan’s expertise in and technologies for disaster risk reduction as well as through promoting partnership with a broader range of stakeholders. Such assistance include the “Project for Integrated Research on Great Earthquakes and Disaster Mitigation in Nepal Himalaya” (since July 2016), the “Project for Strengthening Capacity of Integrated Data

institutions and systems on disaster risk reduction; disaster education; assistance for ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance on Disaster management (AHA Centre); and assistance for region-wide cooperation such as Sentinel Asia and Disaster Management Collaboration Dialogue.	Management of Flood Forecasting and Warning” in Philippines” (since July 2016), etc.
Japan commits to continue to address root causes of crises and support resilience building and prevention capacities of affected countries and communities. Japan will endeavor to provide “support in continuum” to those who are affected by engaging effective partnership with humanitarian actors and exploring flexibility in delivering assistance while upholding comparative advantages of its own, for example through enhanced engagement in the Solution Alliance and partnership with international organizations such as UNHCR, UNDP, WFP and OCHA, enhancement of the resilience of national health systems including through developing the capacity of health workers, awareness raising and dissemination of public health information and education at the community level, strengthening of the International Health Regulations (IHR) (2005) of WHO, and so on.	Japan has been working on to address root causes of crises and support resilience building and prevention capacities of affected countries and communities. Japan has taken comprehensive approach from short-term to mid- and long-term assistance to meet urgent needs of people as well as to build resilience by building effective partnership with international organizations such as UNHCR, UNDP, WFP and OCHA. In terms of capacity building; for example, Japan announced to invest in human resource development to about 10 million people from 2016 to 2018 for African countries at TICAD VI (Sixth Tokyo International Conference on African Development) held in Nairobi in August 2016 (e.g. training for about 20,000 experts, policymakers and managers for measures against infectious diseases; vocational training for 50,000 people as a part of human resource development to about 9.6 million people towards a peaceful and stable Africa; training on climate change countermeasures for 4,000 people, etc.) Japan offers concrete assistance to partners to strengthen their IHR core capacities and has participated actively in the Joint External Evaluation (JEE).
Japan, based on the concept of human security, commits to put people at the center and supports capacity and institution building at national, community and regional levels.	Japan, based on the concept of human security, has supported capacity and institution building at national, community and regional levels.
Japan commits to continue to work with and through the host country and government, so that	Japan has worked with and through the host country and government and invested in local

parallel channels of support are not created and local capacities are not impaired. In the belief that crisis management requires strong ownership of locals, Japan will continue to invest in local capacity building including for refugee-hosting countries and communities. Such support includes ongoing assistance such as Grass-roots Technical Assistance in Zambia, Assistance program for West Nile region in Northern Uganda, Yen loans in Turkey and Jordan, and so on.	capacity building including for refugee-hosting countries and communities. For example, Japan has carried out the “Project for Capacity Development of Local Government for Strengthening Community Resilience in Acholi and West Nile Sub-Regions in Uganda since June 2016. Japan also provided yen loan to Jordan for the “Financial Sector, Business Environment and Public Service Reform Development Policy Loan” in December 2016.
Japan commits to anticipate and prepare for crises before they happen, by investing in data and risk analysis as well as by supporting response capacity and institution building. For example, in addition to support identified in the above-mentioned individual commitment 4, Japan supports WFP’s vulnerability assessment and mapping (VAM) activities and capacity building through UNHCR eCentre, support for strengthening surveillance and laboratory capacity which contributes to prevent, detect and respond to health crisis including infectious disease outbreak, and so on.	Japan has extended support for improving anticipation and preparedness for crises by investing in data and risk analysis as well as by supporting response capacity and institution building. For example, Japan has supported WFP’s vulnerability assessment and mapping (VAM) activities and capacity building through UNHCR eCentre, provided support for strengthening surveillance and laboratory capacity which contributes to prevent, detect and respond to health crisis including infectious disease outbreak, and so on. In December 2016, Japan provided support for the Global Pandemic Supply Chain Network consisted by various international organizations and private sectors.

5. Natural Disasters & Climate Change: Managing Risks and Crises Differently

Individual Commitments	Progress in Jun-Dec 2016
Japan commits to contribute to achieving the goals and outcomes of the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015-2030 through active participation of Japanese experts in the open-ended intergovernmental expert working group to determine indicators and terminology for the 7 global targets of the framework, including to substantially reduce the number of disaster mortalities and the number of affected people, and	Japan has been contributed to achieving the goals and outcomes of the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction 2015-2030 through active participation of Japanese experts in the open-ended intergovernmental expert working group to determine indicators and terminology for the 7 global targets of the framework, including to substantially reduce the number of disaster mortalities and the number of affected people, and

to substantially increase the availability of and access to multi-hazard early warning systems and disaster risk information and assessments to the people.	to substantially increase the availability of and access to multi-hazard early warning systems and disaster risk information and assessments to the people.
Japan commits to steadily implement its commitments under the Sendai Cooperation Initiative for Disaster Risk Reduction, which was announced by Prime Minister Abe in March 2015, as follows. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Provide cooperation through effectively combining (i) non-material assistance, including assistance for establishing legislation, institutions and systems, as well as human resource development, (ii) material assistance, centering on the development of economic and social infrastructure, and (iii) global and region-wide cooperation. 2) To carry out the above mentioned cooperation, provide 4 billion US dollars in total to the area related to disaster risk reduction and train 40 thousand government officials and local leaders to play a leading role in national efforts for disaster risk reduction and implementation of post-disaster “Build Back Better” from 2015 to 2018. 	Japan has been steadily implemented its commitments under the Sendai Cooperation Initiative for Disaster Risk Reduction, including provision of 4 billion US dollars in total to the area related to disaster risk reduction and train 40,000 government officials and local leaders between 2015 and 2018. Projects are currently underway.
Japan commits to share information on the effectiveness of prior investment in disaster prevention and promote mainstreaming of disaster risk reduction in developing countries. Japan will also support respective countries in reducing economic damages which is a common goal of the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction and the SDGs. Specifically, Japan will contribute to realization of comprehensive disaster risk reduction through capacity development of national disaster risk reduction agencies that will enable better coordination among local governments and other	Japan has continued to share information on the effectiveness of prior investment in disaster prevention and promote mainstreaming of disaster risk reduction in developing countries. Japan also has supported respective countries in reducing economic damages which is a common goal of the Sendai Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction and the SDGs. Specifically, Japan has contributed to realization of comprehensive disaster risk reduction through capacity development of national disaster risk reduction agencies. For example, Japan has supported the “Project for Strengthening the

stakeholders in the planning of disaster risk reduction.	National Capacity of Earthquake Disaster Protection and Prevention in Mongolia since December 2016.
Japan commits to contribute to building disaster-resilient societies through provision of both non-material and material assistance by sharing Japan’s expertise in and technologies for disaster risk reduction as well as through promoting partnerships with a broader range of stakeholders. Such contribution include development of infrastructure that is resilient to disasters; sharing of technologies for disaster observation, prediction and warning; assistance for establishing laws, institutions and systems on disaster risk reduction; disaster education; assistance for ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance on Disaster management (AHA Centre); and assistance for region-wide cooperation such as Sentinel Asia and Disaster Management Collaboration Dialogue.	Japan has contributed to building disaster-resilient societies through provision of both non-material and material assistance by sharing Japan’s expertise in and technologies for disaster risk reduction as well as through promoting partnership with a broader range of stakeholders. Such assistance include the “Project for Integrated Research on Great Earthquakes and Disaster Mitigation in Nepal Himalaya” (since July 2016), the “Project for Strengthening Capacity of Integrated Data Management of Flood Forecasting and Warning” in Philippines” (since July 2016), etc.
Japan commits to anticipate and prepare for crises before they happen, by investing in data and risk analysis as well as to by supporting response capacity and institution building. For example, in addition to support identified in the above-mentioned individual commitment 1, Japan supports WFP’s vulnerability assessment and mapping (VAM) activities and capacity building through UNHCR eCentre, support for strengthening surveillance and laboratory capacity which contributes to prevent, detect and respond to health crisis including infectious disease outbreak, and so on.	Japan has extended support for improving anticipation and preparedness for crises by investing in data and risk analysis as well as by supporting response capacity and institution building. For example, Japan has supported WFP’s vulnerability assessment and mapping (VAM) activities and capacity building through UNHCR eCentre, provided support for strengthening surveillance and laboratory capacity which contributes to prevent, detect and respond to health crisis including infectious disease outbreak, and so on. In December 2016, Japan provided support for the Global Pandemic Supply Chain Network consisted by various international organizations and private sectors.
Japan commits to raise awareness among the international community of the significance of	Japan has promoted awareness-raising among the international community on disaster risk reduction

preparedness for disasters through early warning, the utilization of indigenous knowledge and Build Back Better (BBB) as well as through the prompt dissemination of information at various occasions. In this regard, Japan will hold and support various events related to “World Tsunami Awareness Day” such as hosting the High School Students Summit on World Tsunami Awareness Day. Japan will continue to provide support such as introduction of early warning system, technical assistance on tsunami mitigation and prevention, and so on.	through sharing Japan’s experience as well as advocating the importance of disaster risk reduction at various occasions. For example, “Relay Tsunami Disaster Drills for ‘World Tsunami Awareness Day’” was conducted in various countries (Chile, Japan, Indonesia, and USA) between 3 and 6 November, 2016. Japan also hosted the “High School Students Summit on World Tsunami Awareness Day” in Kuroshio Town, on 25 and 26 November, 2016. Approximately 360 high school students from 30 countries including Japan attended the event. Japan conducted technical cooperation on tsunami early warning for tsunami prone countries such as Ecuador and Nicaragua through dispatching experts and hosting training courses. Japan also contributed to Pacific-wide tsunami disaster mitigation activities through active participation in the ICG/PTWS of UNESCO/IOC.
Japan commits to continue to endeavor to “Build Back Better” during periods of post-disaster recovery and reconstruction so that societies do not simply recover to the same situation as that which existed prior to the disaster but rather overcome vulnerabilities based on lessons learned from the disaster and reconstruct toward becoming resilient to disasters. (ex. assistance to recovery and reconstruction from the Nepal Earthquake)	Japan has continued to endeavor to “Build Back Better” during periods of post-disaster recovery and reconstruction so that societies do not simply recover to the same situation as that which existed prior to the disaster but rather overcome vulnerabilities based on lessons learned from the disaster and reconstruct toward becoming resilient to disasters. For example, Japan dispatched a survey team to Ecuador to examine earthquake damages in June 2016 and has cooperated to build safe and resilient society against earthquake and Tsunami through "Build Back Better" concept.
Japan commits to put people at the center and supports capacity and institution building at national, community and regional level. For example, Japan provides various training programs to government officials, the private sector and civil society in disaster prone countries through	Japan continues to provide support to enhance national and local capacity building including through bilateral economic and social assistance. For example, Japan has launched a long-term human resource development program, “Pacific-LEADS” to foster young leaders in the

governmental agencies, universities, private companies with Japanese experiences.	Pacific Island Countries (PICs) in August 2016. Japan also announced to invest in human resource development from 2016 to 2018 for African countries at TICAD VI (Sixth Tokyo International Conference on African Development) held in Nairobi in August 2016 (e.g. training on climate change countermeasures for 4,000 people)
--	---

6. Women and Girls: Catalyzing Action to Achieve Gender Equality

Individual Commitments	Progress in Jun-Dec 2016
Based on its National Action Plan on Women, Peace and Security based on the Security Council Resolution 1325, Japan commits to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Ensure equal participation of women in all stages in the field of peace and security with the intent of achieving gender mainstreaming. 2) Promote women’s participation and leadership in all processes of prevention, management, and resolution of conflicts and in decision making while strengthening a gender equal perspective. 3) Protect various aid recipients including women and girls from violence and other human rights infringement during or after conflict or under humanitarian crisis such as large-scale disaster. 4) Provide humanitarian and reconstruction assistance while reflecting circumstances and needs unique to women and girls, promoting women’s empowerment, and ensuring women’s participation. 	Based on its National Action Plan on Women, Peace and Security based on the Security Council Resolution 1325, Japan has been providing opportunity and support for promoting leadership, equal participation, and empowerment of women.
Japan commits to promote the leadership and participation of women in decision-making at all levels regarding disaster risk reduction, response and recovery.	Based on its “Sendai Cooperation Initiative for Disaster Risk Reduction” (March 2015) and “Development Strategy for Gender Equality and Women’s Empowerment” (May 2016), Japan has been promoting the leadership and participation of women in decision-making at all levels regarding disaster risk reduction, response and recovery. For

	example, Japan has carried out the “Project on Enhancing Ability of Community Based Disaster Risk Reduction by Women” in Indonesia and “Knowledge Co-Creation Program on Gender and Diversity in Disaster Risk Reduction” since December 2016.
Japan commits to actively support projects which contribute to the empowerment and protection of women and girls as well as to play a leading role towards creating the societies in which women shine, including by holding the World Assembly for Women.	Japan held World Assembly for Women (WAW! 2016) on 13 and 14 December, 2016. Five high-level round tables on "Developing Capacity of Women and Promoting Their Active Roles in Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM)", "Promoting Women's Leadership", "Work-Life Management 2.0", "Women's Well-being -Especially Improving Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights-" and "Participation and Empowerment of Women in Peace and Security" as well as special sessions focusing on youth and innovation from local communities were held and recommendations from each session were consolidated as “WAW! To Do 2016” (United Nations document A/71/829).
Japan commits to promote Universal Health Coverage (UHC) thus improving women’s access to health services.	Japan has been promoting Universal Health Coverage (UHC) thus improving women’s access to health services. For example, Japan provided ODA Loan to the “Universal Health Coverage Support Program” in Senegal in November 2016. In the connection with this loan aid, Japan adds the cooperation to scale-up the MCH continuum care model across the country. In Philippines, the technical assistance is delivered at the PhilHealth in the area of accreditation of MCH service package, which will lead to expanded coverage of basic health services.
Japan commits to improve the environment of women through measures such as increasing the enrollment rate of girls, providing vocational-training, and improving water-supply	Japan has been working on to improve the environment of women through measures such as increasing the enrollment rate of girls, providing vocational-training, and improving water-supply

systems in local areas.	systems in local areas. For example, Japan has carried out the “Projects for Optimizing the Capacity of Grassroot Women for Enhanced Livelihood Improvement and Rural Entrepreneurship since August 2016.
Japan commits to contribute to eradicating sexual and gender-based violence and protecting survivors. Japan has been actively participating in the Preventing Sexual Violence in Conflict Initiative (PSVI), is one of the largest donors to the Office of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Sexual Violence in Conflict, has introduced a National Action Plan on Women, Peace and Security, and has provided training for concerned stakeholders including military, police, judicial and civilian personnel to promote prevention of sexual and gender-based violence in various countries.	Japan has contributed to eradicating sexual and gender-based violence and protecting survivors through the contribution to the Office of the Special Representative of the Secretary-General for Sexual Violence in Conflict as well as various assistance in line with its National Action Plan on Women, Peace and Security. For example, Japan assists in the development of training materials for Women’s Protection Advisers in UN PKO missions. Japan also supports the development of an e-learning program on the prevention of sexual exploitation and abuse, targeting all categories of field personnel, including military, police and civilian personnel.
Over the next three years (2016-2018), Japan will conduct human resource development program for about 5,000 female officials and professionals and improve learning environment for about 50,000 female students.	Japan has been steadily implementing its commitment to conduct human resource development program for about 5,000 female officials and professionals and improve learning environment for about 50,000 female students between 2016 and 2018.

7. Financing: Investing in Humanity

Individual Commitments	Progress in Jun-Dec 2016
Japan endorses the commitments under the Grand Bargain.	Japan has actively participated to the Grand Bargain process and been serving as a co-convenor of the Work Stream of “Reduce Duplication and Management Cost”.
Japan commits to work on promoting and increasing the predictability and flexibility of humanitarian funding as well as on ensuring greater efficiency, effectiveness, and transparency thereof.	Japan has been working on promoting and increasing the predictability and flexibility of humanitarian funding as well as on ensuring greater efficiency, effectiveness, and transparency thereof. Japan has been contributing to Central

	Emergency Response Fund (CERF), which enhances financial readiness, flexibility and predictability for future humanitarian crisis. In terms of ensuring transparency of funding, Japan has reported its humanitarian assistance to the Financial Tracking Service as well as to OECD-DAC. Furthermore, Ministry of Foreign Affairs has published ODA data of 2014 and 2015 in the IATI XML format in September, 2016 in order to strengthen transparency and accountability of Japan's ODA projects.
Japan commits to enhance better collaboration between humanitarian and development funding in order to diminish the needs.	Japan has advocated for and implemented concrete projects to strengthen humanitarian-development nexus by making use of various ODA schemes as well as enhancing partnership with both humanitarian and development actors.
Japan commits to promote partnership with a broader range of stakeholders so as to widen and diversify the resource base for investing in humanity.	Japan has been promoting partnership with a broader range of stakeholders so as to widen and diversify the resource base for investing in humanity.
Japan commits to share good practices of bilateral cooperation.	Japan has shared good practices of bilateral cooperation at various occasions as well as through media and social media, etc.
Japan commits to provide support to refugee hosting countries and communities. For example, Japan has been supporting long-term commitment of refugee-hosting countries and communities by providing innovative financing, including concessional loans to crisis-hit countries with relatively high income levels. (ex. Yen loans to Turkey and Jordan)	Japan has provided support to refugee hosting countries and communities including provision of innovative financing. For example, Japan provided yen loan to Jordan for the "Financial Sector, Business Environment and Public Service Reform Development Policy Loan" in December 2016. In addition, Prime Minister Abe announced that Japan would offer 100 million US dollars in total to the newly established World Bank Global Crisis Response Platform at the "Leaders' Summit on Refugees" in September 2016. A number of grant aid and technical assistance projects to support Jordan, host government and communities of Syrian refugees, are provided in areas of 1) water supply improvement, 2) electricity upgrading, and 3) solid waste management.

Japan commits to make use of various financial schemes to promote better disaster response and recovery. For example, Japan provided a Post Disaster Stand-by Loan to the Philippines in the wake of Typhoon Haiyan.	Japan has been making use of various financial schemes to promote better disaster response and recovery. For example, Japan provided ODA Loan to the “Disaster Risk Management Enhancement Project” in Bangladesh in June 2016.
Japan commits to provide support to enhance national and local capacity building including through bilateral economic and social assistance.	Japan continues to provide support to enhance national and local capacity building including through bilateral economic and social assistance. For example, Japan has launched a long-term human resource development program, “Pacific-LEADS” to foster young leaders in the Pacific Island Countries (PICs) in August 2016. Japan also announced to invest in human resource development for African countries at TICAD VI (Sixth Tokyo International Conference on African Development) held in Nairobi in August 2016 (e.g. training for about 20,000 experts, policymakers and managers for measures against infectious diseases; vocational training for 50,000 people; training on climate change countermeasures for 4,000 people, etc.)